

Introductory Remarks . . . Physics for Scientists

Thank you, Vice-Chancellor, for your very kind remarks - I must confess I do not recognize myself in what you said!

I want to take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation of the warm welcome Cambridge has afforded me.

^{Also} ~~In particular~~ I have been very grateful for the guidance and helpful advice given me by my predecessors as Head of the Department of History and Philosophy of Science at Cambridge - ^{and} specifically I would like to mention ^{good} Mr. Budd, Professor ^{man} Higgs and ^{Michael} H. Heston, all of whom I am very glad to see in the audience this afternoon.

My intellectual debts will be clear when ~~you~~ ^{you} listen to my lectures. But ~~in particular~~ ^{in particular} I would ^{like to} acknowledge three people: Sir Karl Popper, who unfortunately cannot be with us today, Professor Heinz Post and Professor John Wather, both of whom I am delighted to see in the audience.
